

Network & System Services

Our service range for networking and systems is very broad, as is our experiences. We can supply or maintain servers, systems, networks and specialist services tied specifically into our S.M.E information security offering. Throughout our services we maintain our plain English approach, supporting you with understanding and respect.

Servers

We can supply server solutions to suit your business be it simple protected file servers through to fully configured local domains. We promote our S.M.E information security knowledge when applying our service to better protect your business, it's employees and data. Up to date certifications from Microsoft and individual experience ensure the right considerations and actions are made when supplying our solution.

Networks

Whether your office needs internet access installed, networks re-configured or expanded through your office, we are on call to assist. We have experience in wireless solutions, cabled and non-direct cabling such as utilising electric cabling to carry data. We promote our S.M.E information security knowledge when applying our service to better protect your business, it's employees and data.

Desktops

From purchasing, upgrading, configuring to software or hardware repair we can assist. Our service can be applied locally or via courier to suit your requirement. We promote our S.M.E information security knowledge when applying our service to better protect your business, it's employees and data.

Specialist Services

We provide specialist tie in services. Our virtual email servers can improve stability, expandability and collaboration within your business. Our alliance with off-site data backup houses can benefit your data security or company contingency for disaster recovery. One on one administration advice or training can be supplied to improve data centralisation, security, management and work process efficiencies.

Contractual Offerings

Through existing experience contractually supporting a high profile financial institution we know how to offer and deliver bespoke software support. We apply our professional approach and attitude to our external site services ensuring all work is completed thoroughly and accurately. We maintain a one visit fix standard.

Microsoft
CERTIFIED
Systems Engineer

We feel network & system services should be provided in an informed and simplified approach . . .